Hello Joe

I meant to get back to you right away but the time crept forward. We played the film today again with our Council members as well and they were most impressed.

The film was just perfect in that there was dead silence while it was being played and the conversation started up quickly as soon as it was finished.

The actors performed very professionally I think. It was a tricky subject because we did not want to criticize the workers but in fact let them recognize themselves in the film. We acknowledged the students and Brock's presence in the community a number of times.

We would like to return the favour to you. We work on a shoestring so we are limited but we could write a testimonial or provide a verbal reference if that would please you. We will also pen an appropriate Thank you to the students in the next little while.

With Gratitude and Thank you

Kindest Regards
